

This checklist explains how your benefits are affected by an approved family and medical leave under UC policy, the amended California Family Rights Act of 1991, and the Federal Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993 (FMLA). The family and medical leave rights of employees covered by a Memorandum of Understanding are governed by the terms and conditions of the applicable collective bargaining agreement.

To find out if you are eligible for a family and medical leave, contact your Human Resources Office. It is important to discuss your family and medical leave with your supervisor, Human Resources Office, and Benefits Representative to make sure you have taken all the necessary actions.

If you end UC employment while on leave, see the Termination of Employment checklist.

Family and Medical Leave

Benefits Checklist

While on FMLA Leave

Leaves taken under FMLA are generally unpaid. However, depending on the reason for your leave, you may be able to use accrued vacation leave or sick leave for all or a portion of the leave. In some situations, UC can require you to use paid leave.

A family and medical leave may, in certain circumstances, overlap or be combined with other types of leaves allowed under UC policies. If the need for leave continues beyond the 12 workweeks allowed under FMLA, you may request additional leave as allowed under UC policy. If you are on leave because of disability or pregnancy disability, see the special checklist for those events. If you take leave without pay after your FMLA leave, see the Leave Without Pay checklist.

When you are on an approved FMLA leave, you may be eligible to continue some of your UC-sponsored benefits. The chart on page 2 explains your benefits options in detail.

UC contributions continue for some plans. For others, you must arrange in advance to pay any required premium(s)—when applicable, both the employee and UC portions—directly to your Benefits or Payroll Office. If you choose not to continue your UC-sponsored coverage, or if you do not pay your premium(s) on time, your coverage will end on the last day of the last pay period for which you have an eligible appointment and premiums are paid.

If your UC-sponsored coverage lapses, you may reenroll when you return to work at UC with an eligible appointment.

Pregnancy Disability: You may take up to 4 months of medically necessary pregnancy disability under California State law and (if eligible and you have not exhausted your entitlement) an additional 12 workweeks for nonpregnancy disability-related family or medical leave under the California Family Rights Act (CFRA). The first 12 workweeks of pregnancy disability run concurrently with the Federal Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA). See the Pregnancy and Newborn Child Factsheet for more information.

Moving Out of a Plan Service Area: If you continue UC-sponsored medical and/or dental coverage and you move during your FMLA leave, please note the following:

- If you are enrolled in a health maintenance organization (HMO) and you will be out of the plan's service area for more than two months, your HMO may require you to reenroll. In these situations, UC regulations allow you to transfer to a UC-sponsored medical plan that provides service in your new location within 31 days of the date you leave the service area.
- If you are enrolled in BluePremier HMO (New Mexico) or BluePremier HMO (Nevada) and you temporarily move out of state for more than 90 days, you may be eligible for a Guest Membership for

While on FMLA Leave

Benefit Plan	Benefits Options
Health and Welfare Plans
Medical Dental Vision	UC will continue an eligible employee's health coverage (medical, dental, and vision) for up to 12 workweeks in a 12-month period at the same level and under the same conditions as if the employee were still working. (If you are not enrolled in any UC-sponsored health plans at the start of your FMLA leave, you are not eligible for the UC contribution.) Also see "Moving Out of a Plan Service Area" on page 1 and "Additional Continuation Options" on page 3.
University-Paid Life	Your coverage continues (at no cost to you) for up to four months after the month your leave begins.
Accidental Death & Dismemberment (AD&D) Employee-Paid Life	You may continue coverage for the duration of your leave (up to two years if you continue on leave without pay).
Basic Dependent Life Expanded Dependent Life	If you are enrolled in University-Paid Life only, you may continue Basic Dependent Life for up to four months. If you are enrolled in and continue Employee-Paid Life, you may continue Basic Dependent Life or Expanded Dependent Life for the duration of your leave (up to two years if you continue on leave without pay).
University-Paid Disability Employee-Paid Disability	You must be disabled while still actively at work in order to receive benefits from these plans. If you qualify, you may receive disability benefits from the University-Paid and Employee-Paid Disability plans during a family and medical leave for your own serious health condition. Coverage (for disabilities other than your current serious health problem, if applicable) stops your last day actively at work before your FMLA leave begins. Please note that approval of family and medical leave does not automatically constitute a valid and approved disability claim.
Business Travel Accident Workers' Compensation	Coverage stops your last day actively at work before your FMLA leave begins.
Retirement Plans
University of California Retirement Plan (UCRP)	You stop accruing service credit when you go off pay status. Your UCRP contributions and any Capital Accumulation Provision (CAP) balance remain on deposit and you may not withdraw them. You remain eligible for any UCRP benefits for which you were eligible when your FMLA leave began. You do not earn UCRP retirement service credit while you are on FMLA leave without pay. You may be able to establish service credit for this period when you return (see "Establishing UCRP Service Credit" on page 4).
Defined Contribution Plan Tax-Deferred 403(b) Plan	Contributions stop with your last paycheck. Contact your Benefits Representative for your options. See "Tax-Deferred 403(b) Plan Loan Program" on page 3.
Calvert and Fidelity Mutual Funds	Contributions stop with your last paycheck. Contact the investment firm(s) directly for information on your options.
Social Security Other Retirement Plans	If your retirement benefits are coordinated with Social Security, neither you nor UC contributes while you are on FMLA leave if you are off pay status and not receiving University-Paid Disability benefits. If you are a member of another retirement plan—such as CalPERS—contact that plan directly for information.
Other Savings/Investment Products
U.S. Savings Bonds	Deductions stop with your last paycheck. Contact any bank for information on your options.
American Century™ Investments	Deductions stop with your last paycheck. Contact the investment firm directly for information on your options.
Other Benefits
Vacation Leave Sick Leave	You do not accrue vacation or sick leave during your FMLA leave if you are off pay status. For details, see the personnel policy or collective bargaining agreement that applies to you.
Dependent Care Assistance Program (DepCare)	Contributions stop when you go off pay status. Eligible expenses incurred through the end of the calendar year may be reimbursed unless you cancel participation in the plan. UC HR/Benefits must receive your claims by April 15 of the following year; you forfeit funds left in your account after that date.
Tax Savings on Insurance Premiums (TIP)	TIP contributions stop when you go off pay status. Monthly health premium payments to continue coverage during your FMLA leave are made on an after-tax basis.
Legal Expense	You may continue coverage for the duration of your leave (up to two years if you continue on leave without pay).
Automobile and Homeowner/Renter	You may continue coverage to the end of the contract year by paying premiums directly to the insurance company or you may cancel your coverage. Call the insurance company for information.
California Unemployment Insurance Program	UC coverage stops on the last day you are actively at work.

Additional Continuation Options

Note that COBRA and conversion options are generally more costly. Conversion policies may also provide fewer benefits than continuing coverage through UC.

COBRA/Continuation: Instead of continuing UC-sponsored medical, dental, and/or vision coverage through your Benefits or Payroll Office, or if you do not return to UC employment, you and/or your eligible family members may be eligible to continue UC-sponsored group health coverage under COBRA (the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1985)/continuation. You have 60 days from the qualifying event (the date your FMLA leave ends), or 60 days from the date you receive notice of your continuation rights (whichever is later), to apply for COBRA/continuation. Your COBRA/continuation period runs concurrently with, and is not in addition to, any continuation provisions under UC's Group Insurance Regulations.

Conversion: Within 31 days after UC-sponsored coverage ends (if your participation has been continuous), you may be able to convert your group insurance coverage to individual policies for these plans: University-Paid Life, Employee-Paid Life, Basic Dependent Life, Expanded Dependent Life, and AD&D. For medical coverage, you have 31 days after your UC-sponsored or COBRA/continuation coverage ends to apply for conversion if available.

For details about COBRA/continuation and conversion for UC-sponsored health coverage, see the Continuation of Group Health Coverage notice. For life and AD&D coverage, see the appropriate plan booklet.

up to 180 days in a participating Blue Cross and Blue Shield HMO.

- If you are enrolled in the UC Care or BluePremier POS Plan, and you permanently move outside the plan's service area, you may be eligible for out-of-area or worldwide benefits.
- If you are enrolled in the PMI Dental Plan and you will be out of the plan's service area for more than two months, you may transfer to the Delta Dental Plan—which provides worldwide coverage—within 31 days of the date you leave the PMI service area.

You and/or your eligible family members may also need to select other primary care physician(s) or a PMI dentist. Contact your Benefits Office to transfer plans and your medical carrier or PMI to change providers.

Tax-Deferred 403(b) Plan Loan

Program: If you have an outstanding loan when you go off pay status, you must do one of the following within 90 days of your last day on pay status:

- Arrange to make monthly payments directly to the Benefits Administration Loan Office.
- Make full payment in advance for the period you will be off pay status.
- Repay the outstanding amount in full.

If you do not elect one of these options within the 90-day period, the outstanding amount will be reported as a taxable distribution. In addition, if you leave UC employment, you must repay your loan in full within 90 days from the date you were last on pay status. If you do not repay the balance, the outstanding amount will be reported as a taxable distribution. It may also be subject to federal and state early distribution penalties.

Service Credit Buyback: If you have a UCRP service credit buyback in progress, your payroll deductions will stop when you go off pay status. You do not make payments during your leave; you can resume payments when you return to work.

Address and Phone Number

Changes: While on FMLA leave, please keep UC advised of your correct permanent address and phone number. Changes in your permanent address may affect your eligibility for health plans that have a service area or for benefits under UC Care or the BluePremier POS Plan, or Guest Membership under BluePremier HMO (New Mexico) or BluePremier HMO (Nevada). In addition, UC needs a correct, current address to keep you informed about your benefits. Notify your Benefits or Payroll Office or the appropriate person in your department of any address changes.

Enrolling and Deenrolling Family

Members: If you continue UC-sponsored coverage while on FMLA leave, you may enroll newly eligible family members within 31 days of the date they become eligible to enroll. For other opportunities to enroll in UC-sponsored plans, see Your Group Insurance Plans.

You are also responsible for deenrolling family members who lose eligibility to participate in UC-sponsored plans.

If you do not continue UC-sponsored coverage during your FMLA leave, you may enroll newly eligible family members in your plans during your new 31-day period of initial eligibility (PIE) that begins on the date you return from leave. Upon request, you will need to provide documentation to verify the relationship of your enrolled family members.

IMPORTANT: If you are on family and medical leave because of pregnancy or to assist with the care of your newborn child, please note that your newborn child is not automatically enrolled as an eligible family member. To ensure continued coverage through UC-sponsored plans, you must enroll your newborn child within the 31-day period of initial eligibility (PIE) that begins with the child's day of birth.

You may also be eligible for family and medical leave when adopting a child. The PIE to enroll your adopted child will begin either on the date the child is placed in your physical custody or the date you or your spouse has the legal right to control the child's health care, whichever is earlier. If you do not enroll your child during the first PIE, a second PIE begins with the date the adoption decree is final. Coverage begins on the first day of the PIE in which you enroll the child.

See the Family Status Changes checklist for more information.

When You Return to Work

When you return to work, records must be updated, benefits must be activated, and forms must be processed. If you continued coverage during your FMLA leave, at some locations coverage continues automatically. At other locations you must reenroll. Because procedures vary by location, it is very important that you review your benefits with your Benefits Representative soon after you return to work.

The chart on page 5 explains your benefits options when you return to work at UC with an eligible appointment. For some plans, you have a new PIE in which to enroll, reenroll, or make changes. If you miss the PIE, some plans allow you to enroll during Open Enrollment, usually held in November. Other plans may require you to submit a statement of health to the insurance company; doing so, however, is no guarantee that you will be accepted. To be sure you get the coverage you want, sign up during your PIE.

Period of Initial Eligibility (PIE)

This is a time during which you or your eligible family members may enroll in UC-sponsored plans. The PIE starts on the first day of eligibility (for example, the day you return to work or pay status). For bencom.fone or internet transactions, it ends 31 days later. For paper transactions, it ends 31 days later or on the last working day of the 31-day period, whichever comes first. UC defines a working day as a normal business day—Monday through Friday, excluding holidays—for your Benefits or Payroll Office.

In addition, you must meet all eligibility requirements when you return to work. If you had career benefits when you went on FMLA leave but return with core eligibility, or if you had core benefits when you left but return with career eligibility, your new appointment will determine the benefits in which you may enroll. If you have family members eligible for coverage, contact your Benefits Representative to enroll them within your new 31-day PIE.

Returning to a Plan Service Area: If you are returning to your previous HMO plan or PMI service area, you may transfer back to your previous plan within 31 days of your return to the plan's service area. You and/or your eligible family members may also need to select other primary care physician(s) or a PMI dentist. Contact your Benefits Office to transfer plans and your medical carrier or PMI to change providers.

Establishing UCRP Service Credit: When you return to work at UC with an eligible appointment, for a limited time you may be able to establish (buy back) retirement service credit for your FMLA leave. Rules for leave buybacks include minimum and maximum leave periods that can be purchased, a payment schedule, and other restrictions. Note that if you wish to buy back service credit for your FMLA leave, the sooner you begin, the less it will cost you.

If you have a previous UCRP service credit buyback in progress, tell your Payroll Office to resume payments. Your payment period will be extended, but your monthly payroll deduction amount will not change.

For more information, ask for a copy of The UCRP Buyback Booklet.

Benefits Transactions and Deadlines: When making benefits changes, it is your responsibility to complete your transactions within UC deadlines.

Although UC makes every effort to ensure your enrollment transactions are completed accurately, you should review your paycheck stub or Surepay statement carefully to be sure it matches your benefits choices. It is your responsibility to promptly notify your Benefits or Payroll Office of any errors.

If You Do Not Return to UC Employment

Contact your Benefits Office if you end UC employment while on FMLA leave, and read the Termination of Employment checklist. Ask your Benefits Representative for more information about continuing group coverage.

If you decide to retire while on FMLA leave, see the Retirement Handbook for information about annuitant benefits. Because a FMLA leave may affect your retirement benefits, be sure you discuss your options with your Benefits Representative before you elect to retire.

Medical, Dental, and Vision Contributions Repayment: If you do not return to work at the conclusion of your family and medical leave, you may be liable for repayment of the health plan premiums (medical, dental, and/or vision) paid by UC during any unpaid portion of your leave. UC may recover its share of health plan premiums to the extent permitted by law from your unpaid wages or vacation pay (if any), or other pay due you, or by initiating legal action.

You will be considered to have returned to work if you work for at least 30 calendar days beginning with your scheduled return date.

You will not be liable for the premiums, however, if your failure to return to work is due to continuation of your own serious health condition or other reasons beyond your control.

California Unemployment Insurance Program: UC coverage stops the last day you are actively at work. Depending upon your circumstances, you may or may not be eligible for Unemployment Insurance benefits. You can get details and apply for benefits at your local office of the California State Employment Development Department (EDD). If you work outside California, contact the comparable state agency for your location.

Note: The continuation period is calculated from the earliest of these qualifying events and runs concurrently with any other UC options for continued coverage.
