Welcome to Open Enrollment via UCPath!

Click on "Read More" to find links to the UCPath Open Enrollment FAQs, sign up for an upcoming webinar, review the “Guide to Enrolling in Benefits” job aid, watch a pre-recorded "how to" demo and more. Even if you’re happy with your benefits and don’t plan to make a change, make time for a few important steps.

Review all of your plan options to make sure you’re still enrolled in the best benefits for you and your family.

Highlights of this year’s Open Enrollment include low cost increases for most of UC’s medical plans and a few important changes, including new benefits eligibility rules for domestic partners, changes for Health Net Blue & Gold and new voluntary pet insurance.

Make sure to read your Open Enrollment booklet and visit the website to learn all about your choices for this year.

• Enroll or re-enroll in a flexible spending account (FSA). Your other benefits will continue if you don’t take action, but you must re-enroll each year to continue your FSA.
• While you’re signed in to UCPath, make sure your personal information is up-to-date and complete.
• The day after you’ve enrolled, you can sign into UCPath to see your changes. Just go to Benefits > Benefits Summary and change the date to 1/1/2019 to see your 2019 benefits choices.
