

COVID-19 WORKPLACE NOTIFICATION

UC Riverside (UCR) is committed to keeping the community up-to-date on potential health risks. In accordance with California Assembly Bill 685 and guidance from the California Department of Public Health (CDPH), California's Division of Occupational Safety and Health (Cal/OSHA), and the Riverside County Department of Public Health, information about current COVID-19 cases reported on the UCR campus can be found here:

For all reported cases, the COVID-19 positive individual is instructed to refrain from coming to campus, or to isolate as directed by Campus Housing, until they have completed their assigned isolation protocol. Individuals with close contact will be identified and notified by the UCR Case Investigation Team. If you have not been contacted, likely, you have not been deemed a close contact by the UCR Case Investigation Team. If you still believe you were exposed or in close contact with a person with COVID-19, you can contact the UCR COVID-19 Resource Center at (844) 827-6827 for further assessment.

The exposure notification process is timely, respectful, and private. The name of the employee or student who tested positive will not be disclosed to department supervisors, campus leadership, or others not included as part of the UCR Case Investigation Team.

All building occupants and visitors should monitor their health and report symptoms, exposures, and test results through the UCR Wellness Check before coming to campus. Adherence to the UCR campus face coverings policy also is required; refer to the campus return website for additional guidance and protocols:

We care about your health. Please continue to practice all Coronavirus safety practices and protocols developed by the campus and work site-specific plans designed to enhance COVID-19 safety precautions.

If you experience symptoms of COVID-19, report them through the UCR Daily Wellness Check and contact your medical care provider. Symptoms may include flu-like conditions such as sore throat, dry cough, and fever (greater than 100.4°F). Other, less frequent symptoms may consist of nausea or diarrhea.

In an ongoing effort to keep the campus community informed of positive COVID-19 cases, please use your mobile device's browser or QR Code reader to visit the websites above for further information. For any other questions, please email COVID-19 Support at COVID19@medsch.ucr.edu.
