This workshop will cover current theory and research in well-being science and the scientific study of optimal human functioning. Learn about:

- The definition, measurement, causes and benefits of happiness
- Scientifically-validated practices (e.g., expressing gratitude, performing acts of kindness, engaging in flow activities)
- Strategies to enhance your personal well-being, health and productivity

Please R.S.V.P. at the workshop registration site.