Join award-winning experts from the University of British Columbia in exploring how students, faculty, and staff can work together to create a culture of health at UCR.

The speakers will share concrete strategies for embedding well-being practices into classroom and co-curricular activities.

There will be Healthy Campus giveaways for all attendees, while supplies last. Light refreshments will be served.

Co-sponsored by: