Goal Setting / Individual Development Plan 2021-2022

Setting goals is an essential part of being an effective leader and employee. Effective goals motivate and inspire, increase success rates, allow an action plan focus and reduces frustration. The Goal Setting workshop discusses an effective goal-setting process and how it helps us understand where we are currently, choose where we want to go, and assesses the best steps to take to reach our outcome goals. To view the Individual Development Plan (IDP), visit the Education & Development Forms webpage.

Personnel Policies for Staff Members:
Local Procedure 50: Professional Development

The University of California, Riverside (UCR) is committed to the development of employees and supervisors. UCR supports both career-related and job-related professional development activities. It is expected that employees and supervisors meet at mutually agreeable intervals to discuss professional and developmental issues. Local Procedure 50: Professional Development will help employees and supervisors navigate through the process.

Guidelines for Time Spent in Professional Development: The amount of time spent on professional development programs will vary with the individual employee. The amount of leave to be granted depends upon the specific developmental activity. As a guideline, exempt employees may be granted 10 workdays of approved paid release time annually, and non-exempt employees may be granted 80 hours of approved paid release time annually.

Compensatory Time: Time spent by an employee on the employee’s own initiative to take any development program is not counted as “hours worked” even if the program is position related. However, if the employee is required to take a development program, then program hours must be counted as “hours worked” for Fair Labor Standards Act purposes.

University In-Service Training and Development Opportunities: The Human Resources Employee Organizational Development (EOD) department offers courses and programs designed to meet the diverse knowledge and skill or competency needs of UCR employees during work time. As a general policy, such courses and programs are considered as actual hours of work.

Featured Training

Goal Setting
Many organizations struggle to foster and maintain an organizational-wide goal alignment. By successfully linking individuals’ goals to an organization’s strategy, organizations ensure their priorities are a primary focus and employees prioritize their work based on the goals of the business unit. Setting goals is an essential part of being an effective leader and employee.

How to Make Feedback Work for You

This course is geared towards non-manager and non-supervisors. We all listen, we do it every day; but how good are we at it? Do we listen to reply or to understand? Do we listen with awareness? How can we encompass the art of listening in our everyday lives? The better we listen, the better we can receive and give feedback to better our performance.

Make LMS Access for Volunteers and Contingent Workers Part of Onboarding

Ensuring Volunteers and Contingent Workers (CWR) can access the UC Learning Center Learning Management System (LMS) is vital for accurate training compliance records. For CWRs to access the LMS, hiring departments may need to take additional steps during onboarding, depending on the CWR’s student status, Social Security Number (SSN) status, and employment history.

Download the latest UC Learning Center LMS Access Matrix for Departments and find detailed information on the Access section of the LMS support website.
